SEA FULL SEAFOOD LIST

striped bass (rockfish)

Pricing rising as local seasons have closed. Limited in large fish only as demand is very high.

mahi mahi

Raw material is staying high.

blue crab

The season has started, and prices are high. Look for prices to stay up until the weather fully breaks. Cold weather has slowed down the early crabbing season.

sword

Raw material costs stay high—spotty availability in the marketplace.

venezuelan crabmeat

Pricing seems to be stabilizing. Demand is high as restaurants trust crabmeat pricing, and more dishes are beginning to show back up on menus.

halibut

Raw material costs are stabilizing as fishing has significantly increased.

Pricing is consistent but expensive. Fuel prices are a driving factor in raw material costs.

scallops (seatrade)

Prices are high but stable. All local harvested dry scallop. U/10 and U/20.
